2.2. If the Goods have a "BAR Code" applied to them, the Customer shall ensure this is applied at an accessible position, and in such a manner that the "BAR Code" can be read or scanned without intervention by Lineage.

2.3. If Lineage offers the Customer the opportunity to inspect the space used at a Location to store or process the Goods and the Customer does not make such an inspection or provides no objections as to the suitability of the space at a Location, Lineage shall not be liable for any loss or damage on account of the space being unsuitable, except in case of gross negligence or wilful misconduct by Lineage.

2.4. If agreed between the parties that the delivery Location of the Goods is to change then any transportation costs to the new Location will be charged to the Customer at Lineage's current rates for such transportation.

2.5. Unless agreed in writing as part of the Agreement, Lineage provides no warranty nor gives any commitment to provide the Customer with minimum storage space or handling capacity in respect of the Customer's Goods and any references to volumes or quantities in a Customer Profile shall not be construed as a commitment from Lineage in respect of the same.

3. Description of the Goods

3.1. The Customer warrants and undertakes that:

3.1.1. all Goods shall be presented by the Customer in good (and if packed, in a properly packed state) and wholesome condition, free from any foreign objects and maintained at a temperature equal to the required Storage Temperature at all material times as to comply with the Agreement and any Regulations;

3.1.2. the Goods presented for storage conform with their Profile and except as permitted pursuant to clause 2.1.3, the Goods shall not require any special treatment or method or additional treatment;

3.1.3. the Goods are not dangerous or contaminated and do not require any specific licences to handle them, nor are they "waste" as defined under any Regulations; and

3.1.4. the Goods are in (and will continue to be in) a state and order in which they can be safely stored and handled without causing injury or damage to people, equipment, premises (including a Location), or other Goods or products.

3.2. Notwithstanding this clause 3, should any of the Goods stored or processed become or be covered by any Regulations regarding dangerous goods or waste, the Customer shall immediately inform Lineage in writing. For the avoidance of doubt, dangerous goods shall include goods which are officially classified as hazardous, as well as goods which are or may become of a dangerous, flammable, radioactive or damaging nature. The Customer shall indemnify Lineage against any claims which may be caused by noncompliance with this obligation and the warranties and undertakings in this clause 3.

4. Type and temperature of the Goods deposited

4.1. If Lineage determines that the Goods are not in accordance with clause 3 or have visible damage, defects or no markings, or in Lineage's reasonable opinion are likely not to be in such condition and on account of this such Goods are likely to cause loss or harm to either people, equipment, premises (including a Location), or other Goods or products, then Lineage:

4.1.1. may serve the Customer notice thereof and following receipt of such notice the Customer shall at its sole expense and risk promptly remove the Goods; or

4.1.2. is entitled to either not collect the Goods or reject the Goods without owing anything to the Customer in relation to such Goods.

4.2. Notwithstanding clause 4.1.1, if Lineage is, for any reason, not able to provide a notice as described in clause 4.1.1 or if in Lineage's reasonable opinion the Goods require immediate removal from a Location then Lineage may at the sole expense and risk of the Customer and at Lineage's own discretion organise for separate storage, disposal or destruction of the Goods (as relevant).

4.3. If there are circumstances where the Goods are not in accordance with the Agreement and Lineage agrees to the storage or handling of such Goods, any additional work or costs necessary for storing, handling, preparing (including cooling), freezing, cleaning or changing of the storage or handling space, shall be at the sole expense and risk of the Customer. If such circumstances arise Lineage shall notify the Customer as soon as is reasonably practicable and Lineage shall not be liable for any loss of or damage to the Goods in such situations, except in case of gross negligence or wilful misconduct by Lineage.

4.4. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that it has its own responsibility and duty of care to ensure that the Goods tendered for storage and/or handling arrive in a suitable condition, particularly where the Goods are required to be delivered and ultimately stored within a critical temperature range and/or other special circumstances (including in respect of ventilation and humidity) which may be critical for the storage of the Goods.

5. Special storage requirements and receipt arrangements

Notwithstanding clauses 2.1.3 and 3.1.2, if the Goods are delivered to a Location for handling or storage and no written instructions regarding special treatment or method are provided by the Customer and accepted by Lineage, Lineage shall deal with such Goods as it deems most appropriate and in accordance with good warehousing practices. If such Goods require special treatment or method of storing (and where Lineage agreed in writing to the same) any additional costs in connection with such shall be for the Customer's account.

6. Regulations and inspections of Goods

The Customer's storage and/or handling of the Goods pursuant to the Agreement shall be subject to any Regulations and/or relevant instructions provided by appropriate authorities and the Agreement shall continue to be subject to any ongoing modifications in respect of the same. Providing always that if a modification which if implemented by Lineage causes a change to Lineage's costs, then Lineage shall have the right to change its Charges to account for such modification, which shall be effective on the date such modification came into force.

7. Incorrect statements and communications

The Customer is solely responsible for a complete and accurate description and designation of the Goods (including any packaging) offered for storage or handling by Lineage. Lineage is not responsible for any incorrect, misleading or incomplete statements, communications and/or directions provided to Lineage by or on behalf of the Customer regarding the Goods. This additionally includes any (latent) damage or defects in the Goods and more generally also any packing materials or containers (including pallets). The Customer agrees to indemnify Lineage against any loss or damage incurred by Lineage on account of this clause 7.

8. Commencement and conclusion of storage

8.1. Except where the parties have agreed otherwise in writing, Lineage's obligations with respect to the Goods shall begin:

8.1.1. where Lineage has not agreed to unload the transport delivering the Goods to Lineage: it shall be at the moment which all Goods are unloaded from the delivery transport onto Lineage's loading bay; or

8.1.2. where Lineage agreed to unload the transport delivering of the Goods to Lineage: it shall be at the moment when unloading by Lineage starts.

8.2. Except where the parties have agreed otherwise in writing, Lineage's obligations with respect to the Goods shall end:

8.2.1. where Lineage has not agreed to load the Goods onto the delivery transport: it shall be at the moment when the Goods (or part thereof comprising the particular load/consignment) are presented to the relevant carrier for loading; or

8.2.2. where Lineage agreed in writing to load the Goods onto the delivery transport: it shall be at the moment when the loading of the Goods (or part thereof forming the particular load/consignment) is complete; or

8.2.3. when notice is provided demanding the Goods to be taken away from Lineage's custody, control or possession under the Agreement or otherwise pursuant to any Regulations; or

8.2.4. when clause 4.1 applies.

9. Delay consequences

9.1. If the Goods are received by Lineage from transports, including vessels, lorries or other vehicles Lineage shall only be obliged to make available berths for the same and also relevant provision for receiving consignments, if this had been arranged with Lineage in advance and always subject to approval by applicable (port) authorities, as relevant. Lineage shall not be liable for delays, damage or expenses howsoever occurring, due to any berths or places of loading and unloading not being available or accessible.

9.2. If the Goods do not arrive or cannot be handled at the appointed time or if they do not reach their berths or places for loading/unloading in sufficient time, regardless of the reason, Lineage shall be entitled to compensation for damages incurred as a result thereof, demurrage and/or compensation including for any additional expenses, other charges or lost time resulting from the same, providing always such has not occurred due to gross negligence or wilful misconduct of Lineage.

9.3. If the Customer advises Lineage that the Goods will be delivered or collected at a specific time the Customer shall be liable for any damages and costs including also as incurred by Lineage where the Goods are not delivered or collected at the agreed time and the Customer shall indemnify Lineage against any claims which third parties should make against Lineage in connection with the same.

10. Sequence of work

Consignments of the Goods handled by Lineage are typically dealt with in the sequence of their arrival at a Location. Notwithstanding this, Lineage reserves the right (acting reasonably) to vary the order in which consignments of the Goods are handled, where Lineage deem it reasonably necessary to comply with relevant Regulations, directions of Customs, Food and Drug Inspectors or other relevant authorities (or additionally if particular arrangements must be implemented to ensure the smooth and ordered transportation, storage or handling of the Goods). Lineage shall not be liable to for any damages, expenses or other compensation (including in respect of lost time) in relation to its exercise of its rights under this clause 10.

11. Hours of operation and access

11.1. All Services performed by Lineage under the Agreement shall be performed on working days during the hours at which the Location is usually open for business. If the Customer requires works to be performed outside of such hours, it will be at Lineage's discretion and at the Customer's cost. Notwithstanding this, if due to unforeseen circumstances, any Regulations or requirements of relevant authorities, Lineage is authorised by the Customer (if reasonably necessary and without prior consultation) to carry out operations in respect of the Goods out of usual working hours at the Customer's cost.

11.2. Access to a Location where the Goods are stored or processed is only permitted by the Customer (or an agent on their behalf) with Lineage's written permission. Such access shall only be during usual business hours of the relevant Location. Any persons representing the Customer or acting on the Customer's instructions must follow all site safety rules, instructions and other procedures (including requirements of Customs, Food and Drug Inspectors and other relevant authorities).

11.3. All persons and vehicles enter Locations at their own risk and Lineage is not liable and excludes all liability for damage or loss of any kind suffered in relation to the same. The Customer is responsible for any damage or loss whatsoever to Lineage caused by acts or omissions of any person whether employed by the Customer or not, whom are present at Locations in connection with the Customer's instructions or consent. The Customer shall indemnify and hold harmless Lineage against any claims against Lineage by third parties that result from non-observance by the Customer or persons appointed by them in relation to this clause 11.3.

12. Inspection

12.1. Lineage is not obligated to inspect, measure or weigh the Goods delivered to a Location for storage or handling, nor is Lineage required to examine the Goods unless there is a written agreement otherwise. In such cases, if specific expertise is required to inspect the Goods, such expertise shall be procured by Lineage or any subcontractor (at Lineage's discretion) at the Customer's cost and Lineage shall not be liable for the conclusions of such verification.

12.2. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Conditions, Lineage is at any time permitted to inspect, measure or weigh the Goods or to ascertain their nature in order to verify the particulars received from the Customer (for example: in a receipt or consignment note referred to in clause 2.1.2). Where Lineage reasonably believes that the Goods are not as stated, Lineage is permitted (but not obliged) to break bulk and open packages and examine the Goods and/or take samples of the Goods from consignments at the Customer's cost.

12.3. Where Lineage obtains information by weighing the Goods to determine their gross weight Lineage may use this information as a basis for the calculation of the payment which Lineage is entitled to receive under the Agreement.

13. Stacking of goods

Lineage shall stack the Goods in accordance with the agreed instructions of the Customer or, if no instructions are given, with standard industry practice. If Lineage at its sole discretion considers it necessary to stack the Goods by a different method than originally reasonably expected by Lineage then all resulting additional storage charges and expenses shall be payable by the Customer (which shall also include any costs incurred due to the Goods being restacked due to safety requirements). If the Customer has any specific requirements with respect to stacking of the Goods (including the size of the Goods or packaging materials), such requirements require prior written consent of Lineage.

14. Humidity and temperature

14.1. Where the parties have not agreed upon any Storage Temperature for the Goods to be stored and/or processed, Lineage shall determine the storage temperature in its reasonable opinion and Lineage shall not be liable for any damage to the Goods caused by its choice of storage temperature, provided Lineage acted using good warehousing practices.

14.2. Lineage shall measure Storage Temperature at regular intervals (except where a Location is not open for business) to ensure that the Storage Temperature is reasonably maintained. Notwithstanding the forgoing, the parties agree that fluctuations may occur on account of the Goods being, among other things, deposited and/or delivered, doors opening or defrosting of air coolers.

14.3. Lineage does not provide any guarantee in connection with the air humidity at a Location, unless agreed upon in writing between the parties as a special condition pursuant to clause 2.1.3 and shall be subject to any fluctuations allowed under such agreement.

14.4. If the Customer tenders Goods for storage or handling susceptible to damage because they are outside a critical Storage Temperature, and they requiring freezing or cooling down (i.e. temperature decreasing prior to storage or handling) or require tempering (i.e. temperature raising prior to storage or handling), or are susceptible to carbon dioxide damage or require other special treatment (including where the Goods cannot be stored in proximity to certain other goods), such treatment shall be agreed in writing in advance between the parties pursuant to clause 2.1.3, otherwise Lineage shall have no responsibility to arrange for such treatment and shall not be liable for damage to the Goods due to the absence of such treatment, except in case of gross negligence or wilful misconduct by Lineage.

15. Non-routine arrangements

15.1. Acting fairly and reasonably, Lineage may in addition to any other rights in these Conditions take immediate action (at the Customer's cost) to dispose of the Goods, including the destruction or sale of such Goods, if failing to take such action may cause danger of damage or loss to the Goods, to other goods, or to the Location or cause a risk of death or physical injury of persons or animals.

15.2. Lineage shall not be liable for any damages incurred by any party as a result of any alleged failure to achieve a particular sale price for Goods when selling and/or disposing such Goods (either publicly or privately) in accordance with its rights under the Agreement, except in case of gross negligence and wilful misconduct. If allowed by applicable Regulations, any sale or disposal of the Goods (or any part thereof) by Lineage under the Agreement shall be at the Customer's risk and cost. Lineage is entitled to sell or otherwise dispose the Goods (or any part thereof) by such method, manner and price as Lineage deems appropriate at its sole discretion. In such circumstances, Lineage shall transfer to the Customer the proceeds of the Goods after deduction of any costs incurred in relation to their disposal and/or any claims against the Customer.

15.3. Upon the request of Lineage, the Customer shall be obliged to forthwith collect Goods which are close to or have already passed their expiry date. If the Customer fails to do so, Lineage shall have the right to dispose of such Goods at the Customer's expense and risk, among other methods by handing the Goods over to a foodstuffs recycler or disposer.

15.4. In clauses 15.1 to 15.3, all Lineage's Charges and other costs and expenses in relation to the Goods, whether invoiced or not, shall become immediately due and payable by the Customer.

15.5. Acting reasonably, Lineage shall have the right to relocate Goods to any other Location. Lineage shall provide the Customer ten (10) days' written notice of such relocation. If the Customer has not objected against the relocation within five (5) days, Customer is deemed to have approved the relocation. The transport cost for relocating the Goods to the new Location in accordance with this clause 15.5 shall be borne by Lineage.

16. Repair and cleaning

16.1. Lineage shall use its best endeavours to maintain the Location and keep it in reasonable working order to ensure the provision of the Services and at all times Lineage is permitted to carry out repairs or other works (including rebuilding and/or alterations) at a Location ("Works").

16.2. Where Lineage needs to carry out Works, the Customer agrees that Lineage may relocate the Goods to a different Location or warehouse. In such circumstances, the Customer waives its right to claim any compensation for damages incurred as a result of any temporary loss of availability of space.

16.3. On termination of the Agreement the Customer shall pay Lineage any costs in connection with the cleaning and/or repair of a Location used for the Customer's Goods, only to the extent that such costs are outside the ordinary course of storage or processing relate to matters beyond ordinary wear and tear. Additionally, if any special arrangements have been implemented for the Customer for space allocated to them at a Location, the Customer agrees to pay all reasonable charges to return such space to the condition it was in immediately prior to the Agreement.

17. Charges or duties on the Goods

17.1. In addition to Lineage's other rights under these Conditions, Lineage is not obligated to accept the Goods for which taxes, freight, fines, duties, and/or other fees, costs or expenses (together, "Additional Costs") of any nature are to be paid or payable. In all cases the Customer shall be responsible for and indemnify and hold Lineage harmless against any Additional Costs paid or payable in connection with the Goods.

17.2. The Customer agrees to pay any Additional Costs in advance of arrival of the Goods at a Location. To the extent such monies are advanced to Lineage to pay any Additional Costs, no interest on such advance shall be repaid or refunded to the Customer. Relating to the payment of Additional Costs by Lineage, Lineage shall never be liable for, nor be obliged to reclaim such costs (except in the case of manifest error) and the Customer shall accept invoices in connection with such Additional Costs as true and correct evidence of payment.

18. Taxes, duties and other obligations

18.1. If the Goods are subject to any tax Regulations (including Customs and Excise Duty regulations or regulations by other relevant authorities), the Customer shall promptly supply all relevant information and documentation required and/or requested by Lineage to enable Lineage to submit relevant returns, declarations or statements to appropriate authorities or to maintain the required records. If the Customer or any other person acting on behalf of the Customer provides incorrect information or documentation, or if the Customer fails to provide the required information or documentation to Lineage to complete any returns, declarations or statements or keep the required records, the Customer shall be liable for the consequences of such incorrect or incomplete information or documentation.

18.2. Lineage is not responsible for:

18.2.1. the correctness of the information stated on any consignment notes or other documentation accompanying the Goods and the Customer indemnifies and agrees to hold Lineage harmless against any loss or harm that results from a consignment note or other document incorrectly completed on account of Customer's information or inaccurate statement; and

18.2.2. accepting, inspecting, completing, keeping or delivering any document relating the Goods whatsoever, nor for the contents of such documents unless agreed in writing between the parties.

18.3. If at the Customer's request Lineage stores the Goods in a bonded or non-bonded customs warehouse or excise warehouse, the Customer shall in addition to clause 18.1 ensure such Goods, unless it concerns bulk cargo, are individually and accurately marked so they are readily identifiable.

18.4. If Lineage holds any special governmental license, permit, approval or similar authorisation, or any voluntary certification/accreditation in relation to the storage or handling of the Goods, including but not limited to a customs warehouse license, approved export establishment, border control post, BRC, IFSR, establishment to store biologic/organic products, Lineage is never liable to the Customer in case of withdrawal, suspension, revocation or termination of the same, for whatever reason.

18.5. At all times during the term of this agreement the Customer warrants and undertakes that it shall: (i) not contravene any Sanctions in connection with the Agreement; (ii) not do, or omit to do, any act that will cause or lead Lineage or their Affiliates to contravene any Sanctions; and (iii) implement adequate policies and procedures to ensure compliance with Sanctions.

19. Duration of agreement

19.1. Unless the Agreement includes a specific term and/or specific provisions on termination or renewal, the Agreement is entered into for an undetermined term and shall be in effect until terminated in accordance with these Conditions. A validity term for the applicability of current Charges should not be interpreted as being the term of the Agreement.

19.2. If the Agreement is entered into for an undetermined term, either party has the right to terminate the Agreement by providing the other party with thirty (30) days' written notice to terminate.

20. Termination

20.1. In the event Lineage is in default of its performance obligations under the Agreement and such default constitutes a material breach under applicable law, the Customer may deliver written notice to Lineage specifying the material breach. If Lineage does not cure or substantially commence to cure the noticed material breach within thirty (30) days after receipt of the default notice, then the Customer may terminate the Agreement by delivering a final written notice to Lineage.

20.2. Lineage may terminate the Agreement prior to the expiry of its term or the completion of the Services with immediate effect upon notice to the Customer in the following circumstances:

20.2.1. the Customer breaches one or more of its obligations under the Agreement and where such breach is remediable, fails to remedy the breach within a reasonable term of notice provided by Lineage in writing to the Customer;

20.2.2. the continued storage of the Goods causes or may cause damage or loss to: the Goods, other goods, the Location or cause a risk of death or physical injury to persons or animals;

20.2.3. where the Goods are perishable and Lineage believes their condition will be materially diminished if they are not removed, and the Customer fails to provide clear instructions to prevent the same;

20.2.4. the Location or the part used for storage of the Goods is partially or entirely destroyed and is no longer fit for storage or handling activities;

20.2.5. the Goods have been banned by a competent government authority or any Regulations (including Sanctions) or the continued storage of the Goods otherwise violates any relevant Regulation (including Sanctions) applicable to Lineage or any of its Affiliates;

20.2.6. the Customer is in breach of clause 18.5;

20.2.7. the Customer suspends, or threatens to suspend, payment of its debts, is unable to pay its debts as they fall due, admits inability to pay its debts or is deemed by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unable to pay its debts; or

20.2.8. the Customer is subject to an actual or threatened insolvency event, has a receiver, liquidator, examiner, manager, administrator or similar officer appointed in respect of the whole or any party of its assets or business, makes any composition in arrangements with its creditors, takes or suffers any similar action in consequence of debt or an order or resolution is made for its dissolution or liquidation (other than for the purpose of solvent amalgamation or reconstruction), or any equivalent or similar action or proceedings taken or suffered in any jurisdiction.

20.3. Notwithstanding clause 22.2, in the event the Customer fails to pay any of the Charges or other sums when due under the Agreement and such failure continues for a period of five (5) days after a written notice to that effect is delivered to the Customer, Lineage may terminate the Agreement by delivering a written notice to that effect to the Customer in addition to exercising any other rights and remedies available to it.

20.4. If the Agreement is terminated all Lineage's outstanding Charges, costs and expenses (including interest) incurred prior to termination shall become immediately due and payable by the Customer and where no invoice has been submitted in respect of the same, Lineage shall submit an invoice, which shall be payable by the Customer immediately on receipt.

20.5. Lineage's charges shall continue to accrue after notice of termination and shall continue accruing until the Goods are removed from a Location.

21. Return of the Goods after termination of agreement

21.1. If the Customer does not collect its Goods from a Location, upon termination of the Agreement, Lineage shall have the right to transfer the Goods to a different Location or warehouse at the cost and risk of the Customer. Additionally, Lineage shall be entitled to compensation for any direct and indirect cost and damage of whatever nature resulting from the Customer's failure to remove the Goods.

21.2. Notwithstanding clause 21.1 and subject to the Agreement, the Customer shall have the right to take back their Goods after payment of any amounts which it may be owing to Lineage and its Affiliates on whatever grounds, providing this right does not modify any Customer obligation to meet a minimum volume commitment (as may documented elsewhere as part of the Agreement or part of the Profile).

22. Payment terms

22.1. All Charges and other amounts payable to Lineage by the Customer are to be paid immediately when due and the Customer shall have no right of set-off against any payments due, whether on account of any claims or alleged claims against Lineage under the Agreement or otherwise.

22.2. Payment terms for the Charges shall be 30 days following date of invoice. No longer payment term can apply unless agreed in writing and signed by authorised representatives of Lineage. If the Customer does not make payment within such time, the Customer shall be in breach of the Agreement and shall be subject to a penalty equivalent to the ECB's last refinancing semestrial rate plus 10 points calculated from the due date until full payment of the price. In addition to late payment penalties, a fixed indemnity for collection costs of 40 euros is automatically due.

22.3. All Charges and other terms quoted are on the basis that the Goods are as described by the Customer and in conformity with their Profile. Where a Charge has not been agreed in writing with the Customer, the Customer agrees to pay the Charge at Lineage's standard prices and/or rates.

22.4. Where Charges are separately agreed in writing they shall only apply to the specific Services of Lineage as stated in the Agreement. Where Services have not been specified in the Agreement, only the following Services are intended to apply: depositing, freezing or refrigeration (provided that the Goods are delivered to Lineage at the prescribed Storage Temperature), storage and removal of the Goods at a Location. Any other Charges (such as for blast-freezing) and/or handling shall be charged at Lineage's standard prices and/or rates and subject to these Conditions, as relevant.

22.5. All Charges are subject to VAT (sales, use or similar value added tax) as may apply in the relevant jurisdiction in which Lineage's Services are rendered, which shall be paid in addition to the Charges.

22.6. All Lineage's Charges and other costs and expenses to be borne by the Customer pursuant to the Agreement, whether invoiced or not, shall become immediately payable upon occurrence of one of the following events:

22.6.1. when the Customer orders Lineage to remove the last Goods from the Location;

22.6.2. the Goods ceasing to be in Lineage's control, possession or care;

22.6.3. upon termination of the Agreement for whatever cause;

22.6.4. if an official arrest, seizure, attachment, confiscation, blockage or similar act is placed on the Goods, or any third party invokes to have a title over the Goods, whether by ownership or by virtue of any security interest or right in rem; or

22.6.5. in the situations described in clauses 20.2.6 and 20.2.7.

22.7. In the events described in clause 22.6 or in the event of any change of the Customer's financial situation, a change of control (i.e. change of any direct or indirect majority owner/shareholder of the Customer or similar change in voting powers), Lineage has the right to require additional security from the Customer. Lineage also has such right where the total amount of Charges, costs and expenses owing to Lineage exceeds the value of the Goods in storage, as determined in Lineage's discretion. In such circumstances, payment terms previously agreed may be cancelled or amended by Lineage and Lineage is entitled to suspend its Services if the Customer fails to provide appropriate security, and all invoices or claims of Lineage towards the Customer shall become immediately due and payable on Lineage's demand.

22.8. If Lineage provides Services on credit to the Customer, Lineage may withdraw such credit with immediate effect in the event of the Customer's breach of any credit terms (regarding one or more invoices) or if the Customer is required or requested in accordance with these Conditions to remove the Goods or the Customer suspends, or threatens to suspend, payment of its debts, is unable to pay its debts as they fall due, admits inability to pay its debts or is deemed by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unable to pay its debts.
